

New Products

IGNIFY ECOMMERCE

Ignify eCommerce's anti-fraud features include credit card encryption and heightened password protection for online purchases.

The system can be used for online retailing, with features such as product catalogues, cross-bundled promotions, real-time traffic/sales reports, inventory reports, payment methods, and targeted marketing campaigns.

The system integrates with back-office operations, including accounting, inventory, and shipping. The new version also streamlines the shipping process by consolidating with major U.S. carrier systems, including FedEx, UPS, DHL, and the United States Parcel Service.

Price: Starts at $20,000. Ignify: (888) 446-4395.

NETSUITE

NetSuite's new tax engine and corresponding financial reporting capabilities let users configure the application for local and international financial reporting standards and local tax requirements for compliance in any country.

With the use of its multilingual capabilities, businesses can also support workers and customers in their local language. Users select from the available languages to view the user interface. All navigation menus, task links, and user-interface elements are then refreshed in the selected language.

Price: Included, except for NetSuite Small Business, which starts at $99 per user, per month. NetSuite: (877) NETSUITE.

CCH PROSYSTEM FX ENGAGEMENT 4.0

The Catalog Database in ProSystem fx Engagement 4.0 consolidates the current binder database, an architecture that reduces the amount of space, memory, and other resources used on office servers.

Version 4.0 supports Active Directory imports and updates, allowing directory service integration between users' directory services and the Engagement staff database. It eliminates or can reduce the duplicate entry of staff and user information. Trial balance information can also be imported from ProSystem fx Write-Up, with the option of selecting the number of prior periods to import and non-tax grouping data.

Price: Starts at $1,150. CCH: (800) 525-3335.
